OUR MISSION

Vancouver Heritage Foundation is a registered charity supporting the conservation of heritage buildings and structures in recognition of their contribution to the city's economy, sustainability and culture.

VHF does this by:

- Developing practical tools, information and incentives to help in the successful conservation of heritage buildings and structures.
- Creating opportunities to access and learn about Vancouver's heritage buildings.
- Fundraising in the public and private sectors to build an endowment that will protect our built heritage into the future.
- Promoting relationships that support heritage conservation.

FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

2015 was a full and rewarding year for Vancouver Heritage Foundation as we delivered a wide-ranging program to promote and support heritage conservation and took an active role in supporting the Heritage Action Plan process. Through house tours, lectures, workshops and walking tours, we offered fresh opportunities to learn about our city's history and explore its built heritage. Special events, including the launch of our short documentary, Restoring Community, gave opportunity to explore and discuss heritage topics.

As the Heritage Action Plan got underway, VHF encouraged all to be informed and to participate by providing regular updates through our website and other communications, and running special walking tours. I was pleased to contribute to the Public Advisory Committee and to lead a small team to deliver an in-depth VHF study on the use of financial incentives for heritage. In September, we launched the Heritage Energy Retrofit Grant pilot program with funding from the City of Vancouver to support retrofits in heritage and character homes.

Once again, a large community contributed to make 2015 a success for VHF. We welcomed many new volunteers for special projects as well as program support. We ended the year with a positive financial position due to generous support from donors, sponsors, the City of Vancouver and grants that added to successful programming, fundraising and endowment income. There are many ways to get involved and support VHF. I hope you will attend an event, volunteer your time or become a donor or sponsor, and help us in our goal to ensure heritage is part of the future of our city.

The past year has been exceptionally busy for Vancouver Heritage Foundation. In addition to the many programs VHF is known for, we have been actively involved in the dialogue around the City's Heritage Action Plan which is the first major review of our city's heritage policies in over three decades. In 2015, we continued our granting programs but also started looking at broader opportunities in this area which we hope will further the preservation of our built heritage. Last year also saw a continued effort to improve our online presence and increase the resources we are able to provide to you.

In 2015, we saw some changes to the VHF Board of Directors and I would be remiss if I didn't extend the Board's sincere thanks to Marta Farevaag who served on the board for over eight years, the last five years as Chair. As the incoming Chair, I am delighted to be joined by a talented and diverse group of new and returning Board members who share a commitment to our city's built heritage and the vital work of Vancouver Heritage Foundation in celebrating and preserving that heritage.

On behalf of the Board of Vancouver Heritage Foundation, I want to express our most sincere appreciation to the VHF staff, volunteers and supporters whose combined efforts continue the dialogue around the value of Vancouver's heritage. We live in a dynamic, growing and rapidly changing city and while this growth is exciting, it exists in a context. It is adding to a history which distinguishes our city, a history we need to protect and celebrate. Your participation in and support of Vancouver Heritage Foundation is key to raising the profile of our built heritage and telling the story of our city.

EDUCATION AND AWARENESS

Vancouver Heritage Foundation's educational programming in 2015 ranged from evening lectures on aspects of Vancouver's history to hands-on workshops, house tours and special events. Digital tools, new online resources and fresh programming all offered rich opportunities to learn and to connect new audiences with VHF. Communications across multiple platforms continued our efforts to engage and inform people across the city in valuing and caring for Vancouver's heritage.

OLD SCHOOL WORKSHOPS & COURSES

Wood Windows Restoration and Repair

Old School courses teach homeowners and professionals skills and knowledge for the care and maintenance of older buildings. In 2015, nine courses covered a variety of key topics including the foundational course, Heritage 101: Introduction to Heritage Conservation and the popular sessions of Researching the History of a Building. The full-day workshop, Wood Windows Restoration and Repair returned to provide hands-on practical training, and Drafting a Conservation Plan introduced the process and thinking for this important heritage tool. Continuing the series of Neighbourhood Zoning Walks, we explored Mount Pleasant to understand how zoning by-laws have shaped and continue to shape neighbourhoods.

A new workshop was developed and launched, Heritage Projects: From Idea to Completion, taking a practical look at the particular steps and considerations in managing projects on heritage buildings and sites.

The first full year of the Student Access Program enabled seven students to benefit from sponsored seats in Old School courses. We would like to offer a special thank you to the donors who provided funding to the program in 2015.

Old School student Britney Quail completed the Old School Certificate in Heritage Conservation during the year, bringing the total number of graduates to nineteen.

BROWN BAG LUNCH & LEARN

BCIT DOWNTOWN CAMPUS

Fire Hall No. 15, 2014

Brown Bag Lunch & Learn talks offer an in-depth insight into current heritage projects and topics through illustrated talks from speakers' perspectives as working professionals.

Six talks through the spring and fall covered some high-profile projects and topical themes including relocation of buildings, sustainable practices and community. We looked at some fascinating projects including the rehabilitation of Kits Neighbourhood House, the renewal of the Bloedel Conservatory roof and the preservation of a historic fire hall for continued use. We also heard an update on the ongoing renewal of historic hotels used as Single Room Occupancy accommodation.

EVENING LECTURES

UNIVERSITY WOMEN'S CLUB AT HYCROFT

MacLure designed home from Artists, Architects and Artisans lecture

The Evening Lecture series, co-hosted with the University Women's Club at Hycroft, continued to be very popular, and many of the talks drew a large enough audience to occupy the ballroom.

Charles Hill, Curator Emeritus of the National Gallery of Canada, Canadian Art, visited from Ottawa with the support of Historic Seattle and Heritage BC. Hill gave a wonderful lecture on the integration of fine arts, crafts and architecture in early Canada's history. The talk was very well attended and was also offered in Seattle and Victoria.

HERITAGE HOUSE TOUR

On June 7th, the 13th annual Heritage House Tour featured fourteen separate homes over nine stops, including two apartment buildings. The historic Queen Charlotte Apartments in the West End and The Exchange in South East False Creek added diversity to the other traditional homes on tour. Over 1000 people toured the homes. Those who ventured to the West End to see the Queen Charlotte also revelled in Rand House, a handsome Queen Anne style home. A pre-tour lecture by artist and author, Michael Kluckner entitled A Brief History of the Vancouver Apartment and Condo provided fascinating context for the tour.

MID-CENTURY MODERN HOUSE TOUR

By guided bus tour or private car, 220 people discovered six West Coast Modern homes from the middle decades of the 20th century. The tour featured three suites inside The Electra, originally the B.C. Electric headquarters. Converted to condos in the 1990s the building retains its Modern roots. We also saw Arthur Erickson's 1962 Danto Residence as well as his private home and garden sharing the efforts of the Arthur Erickson Foundation's conservation plan. We finished the day with a reception at a private West Coast Modern residence used in a recently released Tim Burton film.

VANCOUVER SPECIAL HOUSE TOUR

On April 18th, over 400 people visited five updated Vancouver Specials, built between the mid-60s and the mid-80s. The Vancouver Special in a variety of forms offered spacious accommodation that maximized a standard Vancouver lot with a quick, affordable build. This made-in-Vancouver design has recently regained popularity due to a flexible layout, and VHF encourages this adapt and reuse approach. In 2015, we opened several "traditional" Specials, an early example from 1962 with a Mid-Century Modern aesthetic as well as a unique side-entry style home.

LANEWAY HOUSE TOUR

In 2015, VHF continued to expand the theme of the Laneway House Tour by opening the 1990 infill built behind the Art Moderne Barber Residence. Beginning in 2014, VHF has worked to show other forms of densification used to preserve heritage homes. Five other stops offered lane homes of varying design, all built behind existing residences. The tour was very successful with 580 people enjoying the opportunity to talk with homeowners, architects, builders and our knowledgeable volunteers about the history and modern opportunities of laneway living.

WALKING TOURS

VHF's regular season of walking tours crossed the city from Boundary Road to the forest of Pacific Spirit Park, offering up an intriguing variety of architecture and geography. Some important architectural styles were also given focus including the well-loved Art Deco and less known post-war styles. A summer series of free lunch time tours highlighted West Hastings Street while other tours explored Kitsilano history, Chinatown and more.

HISTORIC KITSILANO TOURS

To celebrate and promote the launch of our Historic Kitsilano Map Guide, two guided walking tours were offered in 2015. Ki-Chi-Ra-No: A Pre-War Japanese Canadian Community investigated the Japanese Canadian connection to the area, while In the Footsteps of the Past: Retracing South Asian History in Kitsilano focused on sites significant to the South Asian community.

ASIAN HERITAGE MONTH TOURS

In May, VHF partnered with Citizenship and Immigration Canada to celebrate Asian Heritage Month. John Atkin, Maurice Guibord and Bob Sung offered four free walking tours that explored the rich histories of the Powell Street community and Chinatown including how the two communities were connected through business and food. The unique architecture of the Society and Association buildings was examined and tour goers poked into bustling shops and enjoyed treats from a local bakery.

HERITAGE SITE FINDER INTERACTIVE MAP

2015 was a productive year for the Heritage Site Finder with a lot of work accomplished thanks to a large number of volunteers who helped bring it together. Over 50 volunteers stepped forward to assist with both photography and research assignments. Over the course of the year, approximately 1800 heritage buildings were photographed and over 600 were researched and written about. The map format and function were finalized and is now fully mobile-device compatible. In-kind sponsorship from Split Mango Media Inc. and a grant from the Heritage Legacy Fund (Heritage BC) made this major project possible.

#HERITAGEREBOOT HERITAGE SITE FINDER LAUNCH

The Heritage Site Finder was launched at a free public event held on May 23, 2015 at the Yaletown Roundhouse. The date marked the 129th anniversary of the first transcontinental train arriving in Vancouver. #HeritageReboot was held in collaboration with the City of Vancouver, the City of Vancouver Archives, Heritage Vancouver Society and the West Coast Railway Association. Several digital-based heritage tools were showcased. VHF volunteers demonstrated how to use and navigate the map.

HERITAGE ACTION PLAN 2015 EVENTS

The Heritage Action Plan (HAP) was big news throughout 2015, offering an in-depth examination of heritage conservation practices in Vancouver. In addition to posting updates and opportunities for input on our website and social media channels, VHF also hosted a number of events to educate and inform the public.

Several VHF initiatives aimed to contribute directly to the HAP. The development and launch of the Heritage Site Finder made information about the Vancouver Heritage Register available in time for public nominations and consultation on updating the Register. VHF also researched and wrote an in-depth study on financial incentives for heritage in Vancouver, examining what is currently available and tools that could be used in the future. The study was concluded in November and provided to the HAP consultant team and to City of Vancouver staff. VHF also participated on the Public Advisory Committee throughout the year.

Restoring Community: Documentary and Panel Discussion

The official launch of VHF's short documentary Restoring Community offered an excellent opportunity for public engagement. After a screening of the film at the Vancity Theatre, we invited a panel of guests to comment on the film and respond to questions. The panel consisted of Gordon Price, Andre Rowland and Naveen Girn.

Shaughnessy Heights "The Swellest and Most Beautiful Neighbourhood"

First Shaughnessy became a hot topic of conversation as it was proposed as Vancouver's first Heritage Conservation Area. Taking the title from a vintage advertisement, John Atkin led walking tours of the area to explore its history and what makes it so special and worth protecting. Originally a one-off event, the tour proved so popular we added three additional dates.

THE WALL AT THE CBC PLAZA

In partnership with CBC Radio-Canada, with support from JJ Bean Coffee Roasters, and produced in partnership with the City of Vancouver Public Art Program, The WALL at the CBC plaza saw a new installation in 2015. The new work by Faith Moosang, entitled "down.town." uses 164 individual film frames, video stills and digital photographs to respond to questions on demolitions and change in downtown Vancouver between 1954 and 2015. An artist talk was offered at the CBC Studios to learn more from Faith about the project, her process and the experience of creating the final work.

PLACES THAT MATTER

Five further Places That Matter sites received official recognition in 2015. The history of five points on West Hastings Street were celebrated through a presentation event in cooperation with the Downtown Vancouver BIA including the installation of five informative plaques, the creation and distribution of interpretive map cards, and informative signs about each site for use during events and walking tours in the area. The five topics include Vancouver tourism, the financial district, Vancouver's harbour, parades along West Hastings and the bluff along Burrard Inlet that was once a residential area for elite Vancouverites.

VANCOUVER BUILDING BY-LAW GUIDE FOR HOMEOWNERS

With the introduction of a new Vancouver Building By-Law (building code) in January 2015, VHF saw a need for easy-to-understand reliable information for homeowners on what they need to know if planning renovations on older homes. With support from City staff, VHF wrote and published an introductory guide about the By-Law requirements for heritage and character one and two family homes specifically. It offers information on what may or may not need to be done, requirements in different types of projects and resources for further information.

HERITAGE WEEK 2015

Heritage Week celebrated a theme of Main Street: At the Heart of the Community, highlighting the historic centres of our neighbourhoods. VHF kicked off the week with an event outside Waterfront Station to present the official Heritage Week proclamation with Councillor Andrea Reimer. We then explored some of Vancouver's historic corridors with walking tours of Hastings Street, Commercial Street and Marpole. We also highlighted Granville Street's illustrious history with Backstage Pass: Behind the Scenes at the Historic Commodore Ballroom, a guided tour of the venerable music venue with author Aaron Chapman.

COMMUNICATIONS

VHF communications are a key part of our efforts to raise awareness about Vancouver's history and built heritage, and engage people across the city. Our many events give us opportunity throughout the year to share information, highlight positive heritage stories and encourage people to get involved. A print newsletter in the spring, and an online only newsletter in the fall, give a taste of what to expect over upcoming months. The bi-weekly e-newsletter gives further detail about events and went out to over 5,000 people while connections on social media continued to grow reaching over 8,000 followers on Facebook and Twitter.

VHF's reach was augmented by coverage in a variety of traditional and non-traditional media, highlighting key events such as house tours and the new grant program. A thriving relationship with CKNW radio continued, giving VHF access to a home renovation and maintenance-focused audience with heritage-related topics.

The VHF website continued to develop as a reference resource on informative heritage topics with new pages added on the Heritage Action Plan and Building By-Law guide, and updates provided regularly.

Restore It grant recipient

VHF's granting program supported a variety of heritage projects across the city, including restoration and painting work on historic houses and apartments. Projects included the drafting of a conservation plan for a home's long-term maintenance, and the research and documentation to support an application to the Vancouver Heritage Register for a Grandview-Woodlands home. A Restore It grant supported the restoration of original exterior lighting on the Queen Charlotte Apartments, a well-cared-for West End gem. Our continued relationship with Benjamin Moore & Co. allowed for four True Colours grants which assisted with the repainting of houses in historic colours, including three houses in the historic enclave of Mole Hill. These

True Colours grant recipient

Pendrell Street houses were among those that informed the True Colours historic paint palette fifteen years ago when their original paint colours were identified during restoration work. Now repainted once again, they showcase the Victorian colours in the palette very effectively.

A major addition to VHF's granting program in 2015 came with the launch of the Heritage Energy Retrofit Grant program in September. This pilot program was made available to twenty pre-1940 or Heritage Register homes with up to $3,000 per home available for energy retrofits. Designed to offer additional incentive to the utilities' rebate programs, the grant targeted key measures to reduce greenhouse gas emissions in older homes while respecting heritage features and fabric. By the end of 2015, the program was already fully subscribed. Funding was provided by the City of Vancouver and VHF worked with both the City's Sustainability Group and with City Green Solutions to develop and deliver the program.

FUNDRAISING

VHF relies on annual fundraising to be able to deliver our events and special projects. The annual fall fundraising campaign brought a wonderful response from donors keen to help VHF continue to work hard for heritage.

In addition, two City Drinks fundraising events provided a fun way to support VHF and experience heritage places. In May, we toured behind the scenes at the Hotel Vancouver, learnt the history of the hotel and were delighted by stories from special guest Dal Richards. In October, an evening of live music, refreshments and a silent auction was held at the historic 1912 Disher House in First Shaughnessy, topped off by a special performance by VSO Music Director, Maestro Bramwell Tovey.

On October 2, we enjoyed a special performance by Maestro Bramwell Tovey at City Drinks: An Evening in Shaughnessy.

ENDOWMENT FUND

VHF's Endowment Fund now stands at almost $1.4 million, managed by the Vancouver Foundation and by Odium Brown Limited. The interest generated each year helps support VHF's programs. Growing the Endowment Fund will help sustain VHF into the future.

An initial gift of $250,000 from Colliers International was added to by further donations, starting with the Founding Pillars campaign in 2003-2004.

OPERATING AGREEMENT

Vancouver Heritage Foundation is grateful to the City of Vancouver for its continued support in 2015. An operating agreement with the City recognizes the value of the work VHF does to encourage the retention, reuse and rehabilitation of older buildings, and contributed 25% of the 2015 operating budget.

VOLUNTEERS

2015 was a very busy year for VHF and, with a big push to populate the Heritage Site Finder with images and data, an influx of new volunteers responded to the call for assistance with photography and research.

Over 2400 visitors on our four annual house tours were welcomed and guided through homes by 201 volunteers, who contributed over 1600 hours of volunteer time to make our house tours run smoothly. 267 volunteers in all gave their time to support the Heritage Site Finder, house tours, a salvage sale, research support for the Financial Incentives for Heritage study, support at walks and talks, Open Doors Vancouver at Vancouver City Hall, City Drinks fundraisers, on Committees and our Board of Directors. We are grateful for the immense contribution of volunteers, without whom we could not have deliver over 70 programs and events in 2015.
